Nature

The Small Carpathian Range stretches from the Danube at Devin to Nové Mesto nad Váhom, passing through three self-governing regions. It has seven cities and nearly fifty villages.

The highest summits reach 768 m and almost all of its 100 km length is covered with beautiful Oak and Beech forest. Visitors may immerse themselves in nature, discovering mysterious ruins, cycling or hiking. The hiking trails cover almost all of the Small Carpathians, among the most popular places are Železná Studnička, Kamzík, Zochova Chata, Pezinská Baba and Jahodník. Many of the peaks and castles offer great views of the Danube floodplains, Záhorie and Austria. The forests are home to a rich variety of wildlife. Red, Roe and Fallow deer, wild boar and Mouflon sheep are common, numerous birds of prey patrol the skies and hundreds of species of butterfly can be seen in the meadows. The karst geology of the area is of great interest, there are many rocky outcrops, fresh water springs, valleys, caves and abandoned mines. Driny cave in Smolenice is the only publicly accessible cave in western Slovakia. Along the south-east foothills run extensive vineyards, where for centuries wineries have grown grapes and produced delicious wines.

In 1976 the entire territory of the Small Carpathians was declared a protected landscape area.

ŠÚR - NATIONAL NATURE RESERVE, SVÄTÝ JUR

Located near the town of Švätý Jur, Šúr is a valuable and complex marsh forest with numerous wetlands and peat bogs. It is the last and only natural habitat of its kind in Central Europe. In the southern part is a sprawling oak-elm forest called the Panon Grove. There are several dozen rare, protected and endangered plant species in the reserve. It is an important site for protected species of amphibians and reptiles as well as a nesting site for several endangered bird species.

DRINY CAVE

The Underground Pearl of the Small Carpathians is the only publicly accessible cave in western Slovakia. It was discovered in 1929 and opened to the public in 1934. It is located in the Smolenický karst of Smolenice, near the recreational center Jahodník. The cave has many flowstone draperies with indented edging. Younger visitors will enjoy plenty of bats flying overhead during the tour. It is open to the public from the beginning of April to the end of October, except Mondays. The sightseeing circuit currently has a length of 450 m, an elevation of 10 m and 151 stairs. The air temperature is 7.1-7.8 °C. The tour of the cave takes about 35 minutes.

ZÁRUBY (768 M) – THE HIGHEST PEAK OF THE SMALL CARPATHIANS

The highest peak of the Small Carpathian Mountains is Záruby, reaching a height of 768 m. It is the center of the national nature reserve, which was declared for the protection of local rare rock formations and deciduous forests. Due to its limestone subsoil, the reservation is rich in interesting and rare species of limestone loving plants. The majority of guided tours start at Smolenice. Not too challenging, the hike takes about 5 hours in total and is suitable for families with children wanting to enjoy the beautiful forest. At the top of the peak it can be windy, however this tour is enjoyable in all seasons including winter.

KUKLA (564 M)

Kukla is a distinct separate hill in the Small Carpathians above Dubová, 6 km north of Modra. The top is covered with oak and beech forest. On the western side there is a 25m rocky outcrop called Čertove Zubý (Devils Teeth), this is an excellent place to learn to climb. At the southern foot is Fúgelka, a recreational resort offering accommodation. At the top of Kukla is a 12m high wooden lookout tower, built in 2007 the tower offers panoramic views of the entire Pezinok Carpathians, Červený Kameň (Red Stone Castle), and when visibility is good, the more distant mountain ranges to the north-east.

Kukla is accessible by several tourist routes such as from Dubová, Červený Kameň Castle or Modra-Harmónia via Zochova chata. The climb is easy and suitable for walking with children.

VEĽKÁ HOMOLA (709M)

Its location and height make this the most distinctive peak on the eastern side of the southern part of the Small Carpathians. It is approximately 4 km northwest of Modra. A trip to Veľká homola is one of the shorter hikes in the Small Carpathians. From Zochova Chata, which is the closest starting point, you can make it to the peak in an hour. Longer variants are from Modra, Harmónia, or Pezinok. The route is technically undemanding. It leads through the forest, and you can take a walk through the Tisové Rocks (also a protected area of interest) at the beginning of the route, or visit the Observatory area around half way (Sundays only). A further area of interest close to Veľká homola is Traja Jazdci (three riders) - a fascinating group of massive sandstones.

VYSOKÁ (754 M)

Vysoká is the second highest peak in the Small Carpathians and one of the most beautiful hills in this mountain range. Predominantly made of limestone, it is situated in a protected landscape area. The hike to Vysoká is a nice walk with both easier and more demanding sections that will test your fitness. Your reward will be an excellent view of the surrounding hills and countryside. You can start the hike to Vysoká from Zochova chata or on the other side of the Small Carpathians from Kuchyňa.

SLOVANSKÉ HRADISKO (SLAVIC HILLFORT), SVÄTÝ JUR

Neštich Fortress, a National Cultural Monument sits above the town of Svätý Jur on the edge of the Small Carpathians at a height of 342 m. It was an important military location in Great Moravia built as of the 8th century to protect against raids by Hungarian horsemen. In this period of wealth, the fortress spread over an area of eight and a half hectares and was larger than Spiš Castle. Soldiers were stationed at the fort providing protection to the wider population. Settlement of the castle continued into the 13th - 14th centuries, as evidenced by clay water pipes with a water tank and a built-in gate. The remaining area of the castle is just over 3 hectares, the ditch and rampart defences are 1693m long and 9 - 11m high.

THE BIGGEST CHESTNUT TREE IN SLOVAKIA, ČASTÁ

500-year-old chestnut tree (Castanea sativa), with a trunk of 8.3 m and a height of 23 m, grows on the edge of the vineyards in the village of Častá, near Červený Kameň Castle. This unique tree is the largest edible chestnut tree in Slovakia and belongs amongst the most beautiful and oldest trees in our country. Protected in 1998 the tree can be found by following signs from the centre of Častá.

THE WORLDS LARGEST SORB TREE, MODRA

This non-indigenous tree, originating from the Mediterranean, is now one of the rarest fruit trees in Slovakia. The fruit when baked is used to make excellent schnapps; it can also be made into jam or juice as well as dried. According to experts, the largest Sorb tree in the world with a diameter of 160 cm grows in Modra. You will find it right behind the walls of the Vineyard and Fruit secondary School.

Historical and Cultural Monuments

Thousands of tourists every year are enchanted by the exceptional historical and cultural sights of the picturesque region of the Small Carpathians. The mixture of different time periods and architectural styles in the castles, chateaus and mansions offer insight into our history.

ČERVENÝ KAMEŇ CASTLE (RED STONE CASTLE), ČASTÁ

The most beautiful castle in the Small Carpathians and one of the best preserved Slovak castles, located only a few dozen kilometers from Bratislava. Its history, from 1583 to World War II, is connected with the Pálffy family. This significant Hungarian family gradually transformed it into a luxurious residence with rich stucco and fresco interior decor. The castle houses a museum of historic nobility and an excellent falconry giving regular displays of birds of prey including Golden Eagles. Numerous festivals and events are held annually and an exclusive atmosphere can be enjoyed during summer evening tours. The castle is also famous as the setting for shooting movies and fairy tales such as Princess Fantagiro, Dragon Heart, or Cinco Panna. The castle is accessible by car from Pila or Častá. Open to visitors all year round.

SMOLENICE CASTLE

Smolenice castle is located on a small hill above the village of Smolenice. Originally a military fort built in the 14th century to protect the trade route through the Small Carpathians to the Czech Republic. At the beginning of the 20th century, the Pálffy family began to build a modern family home in its place. The romantic look of the castle is enhanced by a large surrounding park with meadows, whose beauty can be enjoyed during the summer months from the castle tower.

HISTORICAL TOWN RESERVE SVÄTÝ JUR

Svätý Jur is a picturesque vineyard town at the foot of the Small Carpathians, less than 10 km from Bratislava. The historic core of the town was given protected heritage status in 1990. The earliest written mention of the town dates from 1209. In 1647 Svätý Jur acquired the privilege and status of a royal free town and still boasts a rich collection of historical monuments. The most important sights of the town include the early Roman Catholic Church of St. George from the 13th century with a nearby wooden bell tower.

CITY TOWER, MODRA

Dominating the city of Modra is the historic city tower, which was built as a watchtower in 1574 at the site of the 14th century Church of St. Barbora. It had 4 bells and in 1731 it received its first tower clock. Today it is part of the Roman-Catholic Church of St. King Stephen. It is 53 m high and 150 stairs lead to the top. The interior of the monument is currently used as a gallery, which is decorated with an interactive art exhibition on the work of known Modra author and artist Pavel Šima-Juriček. From the tower there is a magnificent view of the city, the Small Carpathians and the picturesque vineyards. For safety reasons, the tower is accessible only on request and with a guide. More information at the Modra City Information Center.

HISTORIC VILLAS IN MODRA – HARMÓNIA

Modra – specifically the Harmónia area was known for its sunny micro-climate. Thanks to the unique climate conditions, Harmónia was visited by numerous visitors from far and wide. Originally a villa resort was planned, and the first villa, called Harmonia, was built in 1888. At its height of popularity in 1914 the resort had 25 villas. The character of the resort changed after the Second World War. New forms of recreation emerged and the villa resort lost its aristocratic grandeur. Over time the recreation area has turned into a local area with permanently occupied houses.

ĽUDOVÍT ŠTÚR MUSEUM, MODRA

Ľudovít Štúr was a famous Slovak politician, philosopher, historian, linguist, writer, poet, journalist, editor and educator. He was a codifier of the Slovak literary language based on middle-Slovak dialects, one of the leading participants of the Slovak uprising in 1848-1849 and a member of the Hungarian Union for the city of Zvolen from 1847-1848. The museum of Ľudovít Štúr is located in the town centre in Emreszov's house, which belonged to the wife of Karol Štúr, and in which Ľudovít Štúr spent much time raising his brothers' children when he moved to Modra in 1851. Finally, in this house on January 12, 1856, he died. The exhibition contains unique personal items not only belonging to Ľudovít Štúr, but also Jozef Miloslav Hurban and Ján Kalinčiak, along with the works of Slovak fine artists and written documents.

TOP of the Small Carpathian Region

TOP Events Calendar

The Small Carpathian region is the largest wine-growing region in Slovakia, and attracts international wine lovers year round. The region attracts visitors to traditional, local and cultural events and wine tastings. The best known are the Small Carpathian Wine Route, the Open Cellar Day, the Pezinok, Modra and Rača vendange (wine festivals), ceramic markets and apple feasting. Concert fans can enjoy their favourite artists in exciting places like churches, an ancient mill or historic town hall. Those who enjoy naïve art will find themselves at home here.

Memories and as a Gift - the Beauty of Traditional Craft

The tradition of pottery in the Modra region dates back to the 14th century. The Modra Ceramic Decor evolved in Western Slovakia and Modra in workshops during the 18th and 20th centuries. Hand-made and hand-painted majolica ornamentation is considered part of our cultural heritage, and is still regarded as the "classic" Slovak style pottery. If you are interested in giving a typical Slovak gift with the value of handmade artwork, go for majolica.
